Scott holds Literacy Book Fair

T.G. Scott Elementary School held Family Literacy Book Fair Night on Oct. 18. Parents and students enjoyed the evening by shopping at the book fair and learning about AR Parent Connect. Other student activities included: making a bookmark, storytime and an estimating activity. Each student received a homework pass and free book, and parents also received a book mark for coming to the event. Winners of the estimating activity received an additional free book from the book fair. Winners were: (left to right) James Dorris, Neal Tucker, Sarah Poole, and Jerome Banks. (Photo courtesy of T.G. Scott Elementary)

Nicholas shows pumpkins aren't just for jack o'lanterns

Work based learning puts MPHS students in real world

The Mary Persons High School Work-Based Learning spotlight is on Alisha Merritt and Hunter McLendon. The WBL Program provides students with an opportunity to combine academic and career education with workplace experiences. Participation in the program enables students to make a smooth transition into the workforce and/or post-secondary education after graduation from high school.

Alisha is employed as a Clerical Assistant at the Georgia Public Safety Training Center in Forsyth and is enrolled in the Engineering & Technology Program Area. Her mentor is Ms. Cheryl Greathouse, Director of the Instructional Services Division.

Hunter is serving an internship as a Fire Department Trainee at the Forsyth Fire Department and is enrolled in the Business &

Computer Science Program Area. His mentor, Chief David Herndon, is helping Hunter realize his dream of becoming a firefighter.

The MPHS Work-Based Learning coordinator is Susan Childs. For further information on serving as a mentor to students, you may contact her at 478-994-2812 (ext. 5022).
